'Neonatal Database' project

This Open Source Integrated Clinical and Audit Neonatal Database has been developed from scratch by members of the NICUS group, is available free of charge and obligation and contains no malicious embedded code. It should not be exploited for any commercial purpose what so ever.

The original code is the copyright of the Developers. However, local customisation of the database code is permitted. All data within the database remains under the exclusive control of the Database End user, and the NICUS group assumes no responsibility for data integrity or for clinical misuse of the data.

Yours sincerely
